Cardinal Stage Company's Boom Continues at the Waldron

The world is ending and a nerdy marine biologist posts a personal ad to find the girl that will ensure the survival of the species. But saving life on earth on the first date proves to be a bit of a challenge! Will they survive? What about the tank full of fish? And who is that woman pulling levers and playing the timpani? Contains adult language and situations. Recommended for ages 17+. Tickets and info at www.cardinalstage.org.

Naked in the Kitchen Continues at the Bloomington Playwrights Project

Naked in the Kitchen explores marital troubles that arise in Beth and Charlie's relationship after their only son Michael leaves home for University. Beth is determined to connect with Charlie, who has been buried in his laptop, but Charlie has a secret, and its clumsy revelation catapults them into a raw and risky marital zone they haven't entered before. Michael's return home for a visit with his friend Kevin finds his parents in this state of unprecedented turmoil, and with the premature prognosis offered by his friend, Kevin, concludes that divorce is imminent. But Michael has his own bomb to drop. The Campbell family thought they had survived the biggest trauma already. Will their love and humor be enough to carry them through this tumultuous time when family members' needs and agendas collide? Click here for more information.

Friday, November 13

5 Obstructions: An MFA Sculpture Show

Six MFA Sculpture students explore the challenge of having unexpected obstructions placed in the path of their processes. Each artist will show a pre-conceived work and its doppelganger as manifested through the five obstructions—be it simply altered, improved or destroyed. McCalla School Building at 10th and Indiana, 8 p.m. -10 p.m.

The Collaboration Room Friday Night Sessions

Sessions will generally involve collaborative drawing experiments, but will potentially include animation projects, improvised music, hot glue, forts, etc. You can help shape what we do by donating materials: paper, pencils, paint, paint brushes, glue, tape, string, microphones, whistles, etc. Children are very welcome! 5 p.m. -8 p.m. Click here for more information.

Fiber Guild Show

The Bloomington Fiber Guild Show will have handwoven and handknit items from clothes to rugs, sweaters, scarves and gloves on hand for its Fiber Arts Show and Sale, at the First United Church. For more information, call 812-332-4439.

Local Clay Potters Guild Holds 12th Annual Holiday Show and Sale

The Local Clay Potters Guild shares everything from functional items to wall art and sculptural pieces at its 12th Annual Holiday Show & Sale, at St. Mark's United Methodist Church. Opening reception from 5-9 p.m.

Staged Readings in the 2009/2010 BloomingPlays Development Series

The Bloomington Playwrights Project (BPP) and the Indianapolis Theatre Association (ITA) will hold the second round of readings and workshops in the 09/10 BloomingPlays Development Series, a new play development program for Indiana-based playwrights. Nine plays by playwrights across the state have been accepted for inclusion in the series. The BloomingPlays Development Series features staged readings of eight new plays written by the Hoosier state's finest up-andcoming playwrights. Each reading will be followed by a feedback session where the audience is invited to provide the playwright with their commentary, thus aiding in the development of these new works to be featured as part of the BPP's BloomingPlays Festival in May 2010. It's your chance to see the seeds of next season's festival! Sponsored by the Bloomington Playwrights Project and Indiana Theatre Association. The readings are free and open to the public. Light snacks and beverages are provided. For more information about the BloomingPlays Development Series, visit www.newplays.org or call 812.334.1188. 11a.m. - 3:15 p.m.

Sunday, November 15

Coal Country Premiere and Coal Country Music CD Release Party

Country Coal Country is the award-winning new release by film makers Mari-Lynn Evans and Phylis Geller, documenting the courageous and inspiring stories of people living in Appalachian communities affected by mountaintop removal coal-mining and the entire cycle of coal power. Mountaintop removal uses enormous quantities of explosives to blast the tops off of mountains exposing underlying seams of coal. The resulting toxic rubble is pushed into adjacent valleys, burying rivers and streams and poisoning local communities. Proceeds from this benefit event will be used to STOP mountaintop removal coal-mining. Held at the Buskirk-Chumley Theater at 2 p.m.

Piano and Voice Recital Featuring the Students of Tim Reed

The program will feature classical, musical theater, popular music, and a few original songs by Tim. Also featuring special guests Buff and Jenna Brown and Dan Reed. Held in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church at 222 E. 6th St. at Lincoln at 7 p.m.

Staged Readings in the 2009/2010 BloomingPlays Development Series

Southern Indiana Wind Ensemble Concert

The first concert of the season will be held on Monday, November 16 at 7 p.m. at Bloomington High School North Auditorium. A varied program of classic and newer works will be presented, and David Constantine will be featured as a guest soloist on timpani. This concert is being presented in memory of Debbie Cardwell Peterson, a charter member of SIWE who passed away on October 22.

Modern Portraits/Ancient Methods at The Collaboration Room

Three Mondays: November 16, November 23, November 30, Learn how to prepare egg tempera paint and traditional painting panels like those who thought the world was flat! We're also going to use this class to see what happens when you "retrofit" the process on a modern image. Class is full, but e-mail John@thecollaborationroom.org to be put on the waiting list. Click here for more information.

Reading/Thinking/Discussion/Critique Group at The Collaboration Room

One Thursday a month, The Collaboration Room's John Berry will host a discussion group primarily focused on the 2-dimensional image and its issues (i.e. pictoral space, color, composition, form, content, meaning). This month we will be discussing the value of visual literacy. Email John for the reading (john@thecollaborationroom.org). Thursday November 19 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Click here for more information.

Party O'Clock At The Collaboration Room

What does a party look like at The Collaboration Room? We weren't too sure at first. This is what we came up with: listening to records, Legos, puzzles, cakes shaped like objects, volcano fountain, creating an original sound effects score to a silent cartoon. What else? Want to help? Join the party commitee. Everybody is welcome. Dress as you wish. You could be jammin' at TCR's Party O'Clock. Friday, November 20, 8 p.m. - late.

Saturday Morning Animation Club For Kids at The Collaboration Room

Kids make their own "saturday morning cartoons" at our space using stop-motion animation techniques and creating characters out of clay and other materials. We will begin with fun stop-motion experiments and will post the results on our website. Starting in December, we hope to offer this on a weekly basis, working towards short films with audio and creating our own DVDs! Participants must sign up ahead of time and spots will be limited. Parents are welcome! Saturday, November 21 10 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Circuit Bending Workshop Hosted by The Collaboration Room

Bring battery operated instruments, toys, and other electronics. We will take them apart with the intention of making new sounds and possibly new instruments. Salvation Army is just across the street from us if you don't already have something lying around. Saturday, November 21 2 p.m. - 4 p.m.

The Art of Living Your Purpose, Creatively!

Thursday November 19 at 6 p.m. at The Venue Fine Art and Gifts. Run by Creativity Trainer and Consultant Ladi Terry. Seating is limited, reservations are requested (812) 339-4200.
